SINCE 1865

ONE DOLLAR

From the Other Side of the Desk

Years ago I had this dream:
I was a kid just moving to Bolivar and I went out for the basketball team. We had won three state championships (although they were in the future - see below) and I wanted to wear the green and white (and maybe a bit of gold every few years) and be a part of something really cool.
Now, in dreams things are kind of jumbled up, time frames don't fit and people who were my age back then aren't always my age even though we are, in reality, the same age.

Anyway, I went out for the team and I think I was doing pretty well, so when Coach Rudesill called me into his office I was a bit surprised.
I was pretty good, he said. But he didn't see much of a chance for me on the team... unless I could get my CDL and drive the team bus. They needed a bus driver.

"And I get a uniform?" I asked. He frowned. Or maybe he was already frowning. (It's hard to tell sometimes.) Then I woke up.

As I woke up, I thought I should go out and shoot a few hundred shots in the driveway in case I got into a game. Then, slowly, I realized it was a dream.

Now, I know I'm too old, my eligibility is all used up and I can't shoot or jump like I used to and there is no way I could pass Algebra. Or Chemistry.

But I still want to do it. Here's why:

It's about being part of a team. Not just a group of people that call themselves a team because there are numbers, but a cohesive group where the leader is an inspiration for the effort, not just the person with all the power.

That's the team I want to be on, a team I want to join, and a team I'd even drive the bus in order to be a part of.

Well, as long as #21 is still available.

DeBerry Added as New Commissioner

Russell DeBerry of Hornsby was elected county commissioner to represent District 7 in Hardeman County in a process that took three votes to complete during the November 19 meeting of the Hardeman County Commission.

DeBerry outlasted Will Ross and Mack Carter for the position that will fill out the portion of the remainder of the term of Bobby Doyle, who resigned in October to concentrate on his newly appointed position as Hardeman County Schools Interim Superintendent.

The first vote ended with DeBerry gaining seven votes, with Ross and Carter both getting four votes. A run-off between Ross and Carter ended with Ross winning 10-5. The final tally to decide who would take the seat went 11-4 in favor of DeBerry.

DeBerry will serve until August, at which time a commissioner will be selected to fill out the remaining two years of Doyle's term. Petitions to run for the District 7, Position 1 spot are due at the Hardeman County Election Commission December 12.

Lawyers Ask for Almost $200K

Judge J. Weber McCraw will decide the final cost of the lawsuit filed by Hardeman County Sheriff John Doolen against Hardeman County Mayor Jimmy Sain as the attorneys in the case filed invoices. But the clock is still running on aspects of the case and on the costs associated with it, according to Doolen.

According to figures obtained from the Hardeman County Circuit Court, the total is now $197,894.52 with $174,946.57 of it being asked by plaintiff attorney Roy B. Herron. Charles M. Cary, attorney for the defense, is asking for $22,947.95.

According to the fifty-two pages filed on November 14 by Herron, the work for Doolen began on May 9, almost two weeks before the first reading of the budget, and more than a month before the budget was passed by the commission.

Doolen explained the attorney fees prior to the passing of the budget was in response to the gasoline issue that arose on May 9, when an unpaid bill to the credit supplier WEX caused the company to cancel the account that allowed deputies to get gasoline for duty on credit. After a budget amendment was made, the bill was paid and services resumed until the issue arose in November as well, when an unpaid bill by the mayor's office on behalf of the sheriff's department caused WEX to cancel the account again.

In July, Herron filed the case challenging the 2019-2020 sheriff department's budget on behalf of Hardeman County Sheriff John Doolen, asking for approximately $1.4 million in funds for "deputies, jailers, staff, and to acquire essential crime fighting equipment."

The case was eventually settled on October 8, for $102,000, with changes in day-to-day communication and duties, such as the timely paying of invoices on behalf of the sheriff, agreed to by both sides.

While Doolen hoped the settlement would end the dispute, he says things still haven't been done that they agreed upon.

"He hasn't done anything yet," said Doolen. "We do not have a consultant, we have no thumbprint scanner that was agreed to, raises have not been given, and all our bills are not being paid," he said,

Munis to Decide Their 911 Fate

Hardeman County Mayor Sain hopes Monday, November 25 will bring an end to the old way and a beginning to a revamped 911 service in Hardeman County.

Each of the municipalities will be asked to join and help pay for dispatch in Hardeman County, and if any opt out, they will have to provide their own, according to Sain, stating they would have to hire a dispatcher to take the calls.

"The contract is for 911 to take it over and run it. In the meantime, the City of Bolivar and Hardeman County are paying about $500,000. The remainder came out to about 7% for the remaining municipalities with police forces," he said at the November 19 meeting of the Hardeman County Commission, saying Middleton, Grand Junction, Hornsby, Toone, Whiteville, and Hickory Valley will be asked to contribute. "It is up to them to decide how much each of them have to pay."

"We believe they all will opt in," said Sain. "The 911 board would be in charge and the county would be completely out."

The discussion on the subject ended with Hardeman County Sheriff John Doolen being asked to work with Dana Knight to lead the Hardeman County Dispatch until provisions can be made for the department to take control on a day-to-day basis.

Doolen was asked by Hardeman County Mayor Sain to lead the department after Doolen informed Mayor Sain that the lack of their own ORI (Origination Agency Identifier) number or law enforcement agency supervision left them vulnerable to audit by the Tennessee Bureau of Investigations.

An ORI number is used to identify the agency requesting information from a governmental source.

"Who is running dispatch?" asked Doolen. "A criminal justice agency has to run it and 911 is not a criminal justice agency."

Mayor Sain questioned why Doolen needed to be involved and Doolen answered that the ORI number was his responsibility.

"You are running it with my ORI number. And if you are using my ORI number, I need to be running it," said Doolen. "If we are audited, we are out of compliance. We won't be able to run license plates. All TBI services would cease."

OUR COUNTY

Building Their Own Forever Home by Sara Vonderheide

Hardeman Adoptable Animals, Inc. is moving closer and closer to completing and moving into our forever home! We wanted to take this opportunity to thank those who have put in the labor of getting us to where we are today. We have a new HVAC system in the kennel building (and progress made in the Admin. Building) thanks to Bobby and Michael Henderson. Donnie Spence and his crew have been working to finish dry wall, insulation, and ceiling work in the Administration Building, and they installed the new roof in 2017. Ricky Ayers and his crew have been getting our plumbing and electrical systems in place. And Eddie Yates has helped us with planning (and future installation) of our fencing. We could not have made so much recent progress without these wonderful Hardeman County residents! Our new buildings are energy efficient, warm, dry, and much better for volunteers and the dogs. These improvements will also save the City of Bolivar and Hardeman County money on utilities as we go forward.

HAA has launched a capital campaign in order to raise the remaining funds we need to get moved in before the end of 2019. Our goal was to raise $60,000, and in the past month, we have already brought in over $11,000 of that! However, we still need funds, supplies, and volunteers to get us moved in. If you or your business can donate money, supplies, or time, please contact a volunteer. One of our immediate needs right now is 6 foot tall chain link fencing. We will also need extra volunteers at the new and old shelters the week that we make our move. Because of the transition time needed, we will need extra dog walkers the week we move. If you are interested in volunteering, contact Charla Cooper at 731-234-4421. If you are interested in donating money or supplies, please contact Sara Vonderheide at 731-234-4869 or cooper.vonderheide@gmail.com.

Making a donation to HAA in lieu of a Christmas gift is a great way to honor someone at Christmas time. If you would like to do so, please contact Sara Vonderheide, and we can send an acknowledgement of your gift in time for Christmas.

Bolivar Energy Authority

Your Local Energy Provider

To operate your space heater and fireplace efficiently and help keep down your heating bill, here's some advice:

Turn down the thermostat and use space heaters to warm only the rooms being used. If it is below 40 degrees outside, don't use your fireplace. When a fire is burning, lower the thermostat a few degrees. And always keep the damper closed when the fireplace isn't being used.

For more information on energy saving steps you can take, call Bolivar Energy Authority at 731-658-5257.

Incorporated in 1936, Bolivar Energy Authority serves Hardeman County and parts of Fayette, Chester, Madison, and Benton (MS) counties. The Bolivar Energy Authority covers 1,350 miles of line with an average of 8 customers per mile. The governing board meets the last Monday of each month.

HCAC Box Office Opens November 25

The Hardeman County Arts Council will present the second in the Smoke on the Mountain series as the Sanders Family Christmas will run at the Hardeman County Arts Center December 6-8.

Performances will begin at 7:00 p.m. Friday and Saturday, and conclude with a 2:00 p.m. matinee on Sunday.

Sanders Family Christmas is the sequel to Connie Ray and Alan Bailey's wildly successful bluegrass gospel musical Smoke on the Mountain. It's December 24, 1941, and America is going to war. So is Dennis Sanders, of the Sanders Family Singers. Join Pastor Mervin Oglethorpe and the rest of the Sanders family as they send Dennis off with hilarious and touching stories and numerous Southern Gospel Christmas favorites.

Directed by Wanda Young, with musical direction by Jeff Shackelford, the show will have many of the same characters that performed earlier this year in Smoke on the Mountain, also run at the Hardeman County Arts Center.

Tickets are on sale for $10 online (hcactn.org) or at the Hardeman County Arts Center Box Office beginning November 25.

The HCAC will provide artistic forums in a wide range of venues to educate, entertain and enrich the community. In so doing, amateur artists will be facilitated to develop their artistic talents to levels that satisfy their own artistic objectives and goals, as well as benefiting the public.

The idea of Go Figure is to arrive at the figures given at the bottom and right-hand columns of the diagram by following the arithmetic signs in the order they are given (that is, from left to right and top to bottom). Use only the numbers below the diagram to complete its blank squares and use each of the nine numbers only once.

In a medium bowl, mix mayonnaise, spinach, feta cheese, and garlic until well blended. Set aside.
Carefully butterfly chicken breasts, making sure not to cut all the way through. Spoon spinach mixture into chicken breasts. Wrap each with a piece of bacon, and secure with a toothpick. Place in shallow baking dish. Cover.
Bake in the preheated oven for 1 hour, or until chicken is no longer pink in the center and the juices run clear. An instant-read thermometer inserted into the center should read at least 165 degrees F (74 degrees C).

FAITH

Prayers of Paul Part 2

by Jeff Capshaw

Last week’s article was the first in a series on Paul’s prayers. It considered Philippians 1:3-11 which contains three intercessory requests on behalf of the believers at Philippi. In a nutshell, Paul prayed that they (1) would grow in love, (2) approve of things that are genuine, and (3) that they would be filled with righteousness.

The column concluded with a challenge for readers to compare the contents of their prayers, along with those normally heard in public, with the prayers of Paul. The objective of this series is, therefore, to encourage the aligning of today’s prayers with those found in the writings of Paul. For this week’s lesson, the focus is on the content found in Ephesians 1:15-23.

It begins, “for this reason, because I have heard of your faith in the Lord Jesus and your love toward all the saints, I do not cease to give thanks for you, remembering you in my prayers . . . (vv. 15-16). Similar to the structure of last week’s lesson, there are three parts to consider.

First, he prays that God would give them “the Spirit of wisdom and of revelation in the knowledge of him . . .” (v. 17). The Apostle often strings together phrases composed in an “X of Y” structure, and those can get more involved than space permits here. Suffice it to say, however, the first petition is for believers to possess a fuller knowledge of Christ. Echoes of Philippians 3:8 are heard here; “indeed, I count everything as loss because of the surpassing worth of knowing Christ Jesus my Lord.” He explains that this knowledge increases as the “eyes of their hearts” are enlightened (Ephesians 1:18).

Next, Paul prays that the Ephesians might “know what is the hope to which they had been called.” He explains what that hope entails as “what are the riches of his glorious inheritance in the saints” (1:18). Hope in the New Testaments isn’t a “hope so” hope. Instead, it is a “know so” hope. Paul wanted to assure them that they had an eternal, spiritual inheritance that is both more certain and more valuable than any earthly hope or inheritance.

In the third place, he prays that they might be assured of “the immeasurable greatness of his [God’s] power toward us who be-

COMMUNITY NEWS

Silerton

Attendance was low for the Veterans Program held at the Fire Department on November 9. The program was great, and the fellowship was very uplifting. After enjoying hamburger, hotdogs and a dessert, Wanda Young thanked each attendee and encouraged the audience to continue their support of the Fire Department and to ask neighbors to become a part of the Fire Department.

After a very inspirational tribute to the Veterans, the program turned to comedy. Donna (Wiley) Waldrup shared a memory from her childhood. She has named this memory “Baptizing the Rooster”. She had her listeners almost doubling over with laughter. She began by giving a brief history of her childhood. She is proud to give God the glory for watching over her, her family and the country after the great depression. Life was hard and money for farmers was scarce. As a child, she had very few toys and she and her siblings had to make up their games to play. One Sunday the family attended a baptismal service that was held at the Pinetop pond. Fourteen people were baptized. When they arrived home, her mother and sister went into the kitchen to prepare their meal. She and her younger brother went outside to play. They decided to have their own baptismal service. The black wash pot was filled with water—the perfect place to have their baptismal service. They decided the cat would be a good candidate. Her brother preached a sermon, she sang a song and then they baptized the cat. The cat was not a good candidate. It came up fighting and meowing. The cat got away and ran into the woods. The cat never returned home. Their mother was concerned about the cat and asked them if they knew what happened to the cat, but they decided to remain silent.

After the cat disappeared, they decided a rooster would be their next candidate. They were not able to catch the white leghorn rooster, so they turned to the Rhode Island Red rooster, their mother’s favorite. Her brother preached another sermon, she sang another song and they put the rooster under the water. They thought he needed to be baptized again so they dipped him two more times. When they brought the rooster up, they knew he was dead. They shook him by his feet and water was squirting out of its mouth. They tried their version of CPR. They knew they were in bad trouble and had to tell their mother. They knew the value of the rooster. They went in the house to tell their sad news but Austin, Donna’s brother, asked his mother about rooster and dressing. She answered, “No” so he asked about rooster and dumplings. Again, they heard “No”. They confessed up and told their mother the story. She informed them they would be in trouble when their dad came home. But they felt good about the rooster going to heaven because he had been preached and sung over plus being baptized. They put the rooster in a cardboard box with an old towel and went to their pet cemetery to bury the rooster. After they got the grave dug and the rooster buried, they put wildflowers on the grave. They went to the house to wait for their dad to come home. As they expected, when he arrived, they did receive a “whipping”.

If you see Donna, ask her to retell. Be prepared for a good laugh.

Toone

Hello from Toone, where Thanksgiving plans are well underway, and the turkeys are beginning to feel quite nervous! I’m sure by now everyone has made their shopping lists and are washing the China and polishing the silver pieces. Other than Christmas, Thanksgiving is my favorite holiday. I love the long-standing traditional menu that my family still uses (with a few new twists thrown in now and then by new family members). Although the locations of our family Thanksgiving gatherings have changed through the years, we still adhere to certain standards of tradition.

Our family Thanksgiving celebrations began way back in the early 1950’s when my Mother and her four sisters decided to have an annual family reunion to be held during the week of Thanksgiving at my Grandparents’ home in Memphis. After my Grandparents passed on and the five sisters all moved away and settled into their permanent residences, the reunion began to rotate each year to one of the sister’s homes in either, Memphis (where two of my aunts lived together), Toone, Barlow, KY, or Ponchatoula, LA (just north of New Orleans). These road-trips were always a great adventure that the entire family looked forward to all year long, especially the many cousins in the clan as this was our opportunity to spend several days playing together.

Wherever we went, the activities were different, but the menu was always the same, and each of us had our favorite dish. Of course, there was always a turkey, roasted golden brown (not deep-fried), cornbread dressing (sometimes oyster dressing in Louisiana) with giblet gravy, cranberry sauce (canned, not fresh), green bean casserole, mashed potatoes, sweet potato casserole with marshmallows melted on top, lime jello salad, fruit salad (my favorite), sauerkraut, creamed corn, a pickle/relish tray, hot brown-n-serve rolls, and several delicious pies, such as Cairo-pecan, pumpkin, apple and my favorite, chocolate cream with mile-high meringue.

Although the original five sisters and their husbands are all gone now, many of us cousins and our families still gather at my Sister Mary’s house here at the Yarbrough Farm to celebrate the Holiday, and we still enjoy the delicious foods fellowship of Thanksgivings past!

If you haven’t made it to one of the TES Bobcat basketball games this season, there are still several more games left on the schedule. The Bobcats will host Whiteville at home, December 2, at 5:00 p.m. The teams then travel to Whiteville to play them there, December 5, at 5:00 p.m. The next day, December 6, the Bobcats travel to Hornsby to take on the HES Bulldogs, at 12:00 noon. Mark your calendars, and make your plans to come out to cheer the Bobcats to victory!

I hope you and your families have a very happy and safe Thanksgiving holiday. I realize by now everyone is focusing on Christmas and decorating their trees and houses, but I urge you not to downplay Thanksgiving. It can be one of the most enjoyable and relaxing times of the year with family and friends. Happy Thanksgiving and “Gobble Gobble” to you all!

Be sure to share your family’s Thanksgiving favorite dishes and traditions with our readers via the info listed above. Until next time. . . . talk to your neighbors!

Hornsby

Hello to all! The Hornsby Basketball team played Pickwick Monday night, it was also 8th grade recognition for those who played and cheered. Of course this always brings a few tears because moms and dads know their child is growing up way too fast. The Jr. BETA group will be getting ready for the annual conference in Nashville the 23rd -25th. This is always exciting for the kids, one because the convention is held at the “The Opryland Hotel.” It is not only a beautiful hotel but it is decorated for Christmas, which is always beautiful. Those celebrating birthdays the 16th thru the 30th are: Lily White, Logan Garnier, Alena Scott, Ayla McGee and Jace Smith. We wish you all a very “Happy Birthday” on your special day. Hornsby PTO met but no plans were made to do anything in the month of December.

The adults are practicing every Sunday night for the Christmas program, “Start at the Manger then go to the Cross” at 5:45. We would love to have you, so come on and join us. We have great fun and fellowship when we get together. The children are practicing their program called “The Secret of Snowflake County” and are having a great time, if your child would like to be a part of it we would love to have them. Practice is on Sunday at 4:00 and if you would like to know more just give Amber Moore a call. The new senior ministry will be taking a group to Bellevue for the Singing Christmas on December 14th and the tickets need to be purchased by next week. If you would like to know more information please contact Steve Byrd at 731-361-9050 if you would like to attend. I know our prayer list is long but please lift these people up in prayer.

This was last year Tuesday, January 8. As normal very few sightings. Around mid-morning, ducks were in the air! Last years duckseason "Lack of Ducks" was blamed mostly on the warm winter weather. Kinda odd for us, we killed the same amount.

Lawyers Ask for Almost $200K continued from A1
adding that until the mayor begins honoring the terms of the agreement, Attorney Herron will be retained.

“He wants to talk about how this money is being wasted, but if he would do what he is supposed to do, the money I have to spend on attorney fees could be used for other things.”

The November 14 document from Herron details 424.3 attorney hours at $350 per hour and 152.7 paralegal hours at $150 per hour. Both the attorney and the paralegal affidavits asserted this is their regular rate for service. Cary’s hourly rate was listed as $300 for the case.

When Judge Weber will rule on the amount that will be allowed to each attorney is unknown.

Mayor Sain did not respond to a request for comment, but Attorney Cary said that to his knowledge, a fingerprint scanner has been ordered and that the delay in raises is due to failing to place the money in the proper line item in the sheriff’s budget. Cary added that to his knowledge, a consultant has yet to be settled upon. Cary’s last official day as county attorney is November 22.

Share Your Bounty with Family

As Thanksgiving approaches, it's meaningful to reflect on the origin of the holiday –Native Americans and pilgrims sharing their bounty of food with each other. As you gather with your loved ones this year, perhaps you can think of ways to share not only your dinner, but also your financial bounty.

In terms of bounty-sharing, here are some suggestions you may find helpful, no matter your age or that of your children:

Make appropriate gifts. If you have young children, you may want to get them started with a savings account to help them develop positive financial habits. You could even make it a Thanksgiving tradition to measure how their accounts have grown from year to year. But you can go even further by starting to fund an education savings vehicle such as a 529 plan. This account can provide valuable tax benefits and gives you total control of the money until your children are ready for college or trade school. Other education-funding options also are available, such as a custodial account, commonly known as an UGMA or UTMA. If you have grown children, you could still contribute to a 529 plan for your grandchildren.

Develop – and communicate – your estate plans. While you may want to be as generous as possible to your loved ones during your lifetime, you may desire to leave something behind as part of your legacy. And that means you will need to develop a comprehensive estate plan. Such a plan will allow you to express your wishes about where you want your assets to go, who will take care of your children if something happens to you, how you want to be treated should you become incapacitated, and other important issues. Your estate plan will need to include the appropriate documents and arrangements – last will and testament, living trust, power of attorney, health care directive, and so on. To create such a plan, you may need to work with a team of professionals, including your financial, tax and legal advisors. And it's essential that you communicate the existence and details of your estate plan to your loved ones. By doing so, you can help them know what to expect and what's expected of them to help avoid unpleasant surprises and familial squabbles when it's time to settle your estate.

Solicit suggestions for charitable giving. Sharing some of what you have with charitable or community organizations will also help fulfill the spirit of Thanksgiving. And you can make it a family affair by asking your loved ones which groups they would like to support. Not only will you be helping a worthy cause, but you'll also be teaching your children about the value of money – in this case, the ability to use money you've saved to help make a positive contribution to society.

By sharing your bounty with your loved ones and your community on Thanksgiving, you'll help create a more memorable holiday for everyone. So, be generous, be creative – and be prepared for how much satisfaction you can get from your actions.

Maintain. Don't Gain This Holiday Season

by Amy Elizer, UT Extension Specialist

The holiday season is a minefield of overeating opportunities! Add the hectic festivities to your calendar, and exercise takes a backseat. This combination often causes people to gain weight during the six-week period from Thanksgiving to the New Year. Overeating and lack of exercise can also wreak havoc for those with Type 2 Diabetes and other chronic diseases.

With mindfulness and planning, you can choose to enter 2020 without regret and while enjoying your holiday favorites. UT Extension and BE MORE are offering the Maintain. Don't Gain!

Healthy Holiday Challenge for anyone wanting encouragement and accountability through the season. This individual challenge runs November 25, 2019, to January 5, 2020.

Ramona Spencer recently signed up for the free program. "I want to continue my journey to become more healthy...It is easy to throw caution to the wind during the holidays and get off track with losing weight," Spencer said. She continued, "I feel being a part of this program will help me remain on track. It will give me healthy eating tips and help me at least to maintain my current weight and maybe lose weight."

How does Maintain. Don't Gain! work? Either email your name and desire to participate by emailing (aelizer@utk.edu) or call 658-2421 with that information by Monday, November 25. You will record your weight at the beginning and end of the challenge. At the end, you'll just be asked if you maintained (the goal), lost, or gained weight. NOT what you weigh. Each week during the challenge you will be emailed recipes, tips and encouragement.

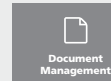

What are some of the tips? Consider eating a slice of pumpkin pie instead of pecan. Really want that pecan pie? Eat a smaller slice or leave off the dollop of whipped cream. Break physical activity up into smaller chunks of time so it can still fit into your schedule.

This project is funded by the CDC's High Obesity Program (HOP) and is working with The University of Tennessee Extension to improve access to food and physical activity opportunities throughout Hardeman County. For more information, email Amy Elizer (aelizer@utk.edu) or find and like @BeMoreHardeman, the project's new Facebook page.

NATURAL GAS FACTS

- 1 Natural gas is naturally colorless and odorless. Mercaptan, which some describe as having the smell of rotten eggs, is added to natural gas to make it easier to detect a leak.
- 2 Natural gas is a very safe and efficient source of energy.
- 3 If you ever smell gas and think that you may have a leak, DO NOT operate any light switches, or create any open flame, please leave the area immediately, and call the Bolivar Utility Department during regular business hours at 731-658-5894 Monday-Friday 8:00 a.m.-4:30 p.m., if after hours, dial 911.
- 4 If you hear a hissing sound or dust/dirt blowing up from the ground, leave the area, and call Bolivar Utility Department or dial 911 after hours.
- 5 If you ever have the need to dig in your yard or property, call Tennessee One Call System at 811 and we will be notified to mark gas pipelines that is the property of the Bolivar Utility Department.
- 6 If you ever see any suspicious activity near a pipeline or someone intentionally trying to damage a pipeline, please call Bolivar Utility Department at 731-658-5894 or after hours, dial 911.

FSA Elections for Hardeman County Ongoing

The 2019 Farm Service Agency County Committee Elections began on November 4, when ballots were mailed to eligible voters. The deadline to return the ballots to local FSA offices, or to be postmarked, is December 2.

County committee members are an important component of the operations of FSA and provide a link between the agricultural community and USDA. Farmers and ranchers elected to county committees help deliver FSA programs at the local level, applying their knowledge and judgment to make decisions on commodity price support programs; conservation programs; incentive indemnity and disaster programs for some commodities; emergency programs and eligibility. FSA committees operate within official regulations designed to carry out federal laws.

To be an eligible voter, farmers and ranchers must participate or cooperate in an FSA program. A person who is not of legal voting age but supervises and conducts the farming operations of an entire farm, may also be eligible to vote.

Eligible voters in local administrative area LAA 1, who do not receive a ballot can obtain one from their local USDA Service Center. LAA 1 includes Bolivar, Pocahontas, Essary Springs area, Powell Chapel community, Hornsby and Silerton area.

Newly elected committee members will take office Jan. 1, 2020.

The candidates in this year's election are:

Russell DeBerry is nominated in LAA #1, Hardeman County, to serve as a committee member for a 3-year term. Mr. DeBerry resides in Hornsby and has produced soybeans for 30 years. He is an active member of Hornsby Baptist Church. Mr. DeBerry is a member of the Hardeman County Farm Bureau Board.

Mack Carter is nominated in LAA #1, Hardeman County, to serve as a committee member for a 3-year term. Mr. Carter resides in Hornsby and has produced blackberries, peaches, pears and muscadines for 7 years. He attends Campbell Chapel Baptist Church. Mr. Carter is president of the Southwest TN Landowners Interest Group and serves on the Farmer's Market Board.

More information on county committees, such as the new 2019 fact sheet, can be found on the FSA website at fsa.usda.gov/elections or at a local USDA Service Center.

Bolivar Splits Opening Night

Bolivar Central began the 2019-2020 season facing Dyer County, but it almost didn’t happen.

A mixup with those who schedule officials for Bolivar had no striped shirts in the building at game time.

“We sent our schedule in, but this game didn’t get picked up,” explained Bolivar Head Coach Rick Rudesill. “I’m sure it’s happened before, but I don’t remember when.”

When they finally got things underway, the Lady Tigers found little that went right, falling behind 33-7 after one quarter enroute to a 75-31 loss. Phakara Sharpe led the Lady Tigers with six points.

The boys game saw the Tigers get out to a quick start and lead 20-8 after one quarter, but Dyer County dominated play in the second quarter and pulled to within 37-35 at the half.

Bolivar spurred out to a 56-44 lead after three, but poor free throw shooting saw them have to withstand a final charge by the Choctaws, holding on for a 72-69 win.

Senior Jeff Norment led Bolivar with 23 points, while juniors Jaquan Lax with 20 and Toris Woods with 10 were also in double figures.

“We let them stay in it,” said Rudesill, speaking of his teams 11-28 shooting from the line.

It was the first time Bolivar had faced Dyer County since the finals of the 2009 Gibson County tournament. The two teams will meet again on December 3 in Newbern. Photo by Heather Pulse.

Hardeman County Sports Notes

This season, the Bolivar Bulletin Times will look back at ten years ago, following week by week the 2010 Bolivar Central Tigers State Championship season.

November 27, 2009 - Ridgeway Classic - Bolivar vs. Covington: The Tigers faced Covington, outscoring the Chargers 6-4 in overtime to win 61-59. Ricky Tisdale led Bolivar with 19 points. Tevin Coleman had 13 and Jay Murphy was the only other Tiger in double figures with 10.

Bolivar led after the first quarter, but trailed at the half and after three frames. The Tigers shot 15-23 from the free throw line to Covington’s 3-6.

Bolivar was now 3-0, but that would change very quickly.

Next week: Bolivar faces Ridgeway in the second game of the Ridgeway Classic. In a year of memorable wins, this was the most memorable loss.

Taking Time to Give Thanks by Carolyn Tomlin

We all have the same amount of time. Twenty-four hours in a day, 1,440 minutes and 86,400 seconds. How do you use this time to give thanks for your blessings?

During this thanksgiving season, we are reminded to stop and reflect on those things for which we're grateful. Not rattling off someone else's list, but our own...one that requires deep reflection.

This Thanksgiving, I'm particularly thankful for...

- A loving family and one that enjoys being together.
- Grandchildren and greats who are growing into responsible, compassionate people.
- The love of friends who share their time and homes.
- America and the freedoms we enjoy.
- My shelter dog, Hemingway, and his unconditional love of all people... and most neighborhood dogs.
- A loving church family who practices what it means to be a Christian.
- A phone call, email or letter that says, "I read your article this week."
- Those serving in the Armed Forces now, and our veterans, who have kept our nation safe and preserved our freedoms.
- The joy of gardening and planting seeds, cultivating plants and partaking of the harvest.
- The fragrance of the first drops of rain on a hot summer day.
- A good-night's sleep on crisp, fresh linens dried in the sun.
- Memories of good parents that I knew loved me and supported me through their hard work and unselfish devotion to being a wonderful mom and dad.
- Former teachers who encouraged, supported, and inspired me to reach higher and to believe in myself.
- Growing up in a rural area and appreciating the value of a country life.
- A father who said, "I thought I'd taught you to think for yourself. Now you do, what 'you' think, you should do!"
- A mother, whose advice was "Be able to take care of yourself!"
- The smell of fresh turned earth on a warm spring day.
- Christmas decoration from the good earth...including fragrant pine, magnolia, and holly.
- A warm house in winter.
- Colored glass bottles with the late afternoon sun peeping through.
- The annual doctor's visit that ends with "If all my patients were as healthy as you, I'd have to close my practice."
- The simple things in life, such as a good book, sunshine on a cold day, warm mittens, fur-lined boots.
- Chocolate...dark chocolate, milk chocolate—anytime, anyplace.
- Having an "Aunt Jessie" who taught me about the natural world of plants and animals.
- Afternoon tea in an antique China cup.
- The smell of pot-roast cooking in my mother-in-law's old iron skillet.
- The speed of the Internet when researching a writing assignment.
- Editors who publish my work.
- A loving and forgiving God.

As you gather together this Thanksgiving, take time to reflect on how God has blessed you. How are you using those hours, minutes, and seconds in your day?
